TAKE ACTION NOW! Show Your Support of Bill to Create "Captiva Island Conservation Area"

In direct response to the County's efforts to increase building heights and density on Captiva, Adam Botana, our elected Representative to the Florida House of Representatives has offered to sponsor a bill to create a Captiva Island Conservation Area to protect and maintain Captiva's current building heights and density.

This legislation, modeled after the Gasparilla Island Conservation District Act which protects building heights and density on Boca Grande, would do the following for Captiva:

- Limit building heights to the current 28 feet above base flood elevation;
- Limit density (including hotels and motels) to the current three units per acre; Limit zoning to what exists currently;
- And permit the build-back of nonconforming buildings damaged by natural disaster in compliance with updated federal flood elevations without a reduction in use, density, intensity, size, or square footage of the damaged buildings.

In order to get this legislation to the floor of the Florida House and eventually approved by the full legislature, we need an immediate show of support from our community. Our State Senators and Representatives in our Local Delegation will be meeting on Nov. 30 to discuss this bill, and they need to hear from us as soon as possible!

Please send an email with the following or similar message to each of our elected State officials.

We support Rep. Botana's efforts to create a Captiva Island Conservation Area which will protect our fragile barrier island and its vulnerable infrastructure and population by maintaining Captiva's current building heights and density. We ask our Local Delegation to do everything possible to assist in the passage of this vital legislation.
